PRME Impactful Five (i5) Workshop

The PRME 'Impactful Five' (i5) Program is an ambitious project designed to cultivate responsible leaders through the integration of collaborative, meaningful and playful learning strategies among leadership educators. Developed by the LEGO Foundation, the i5 program distils five essential qualities that define playful learning: joy, social interaction, active engagement, meaningful experiences, and iteration.

Through a partnership with Project Zero at the Harvard Graduate School of Education and Sulitest, PRME translated the Lego Foundation's i5 skills of holistic development and i5 characteristics of playful learning into pedagogical practices for the higher education business school context. These findings are shared in the recently launched PRME i5 Playbook which showcases concrete methods to apply i5 pedagogies in the classroom. This workshop is facilitated by members of i5 Team Europe – experts who have pioneered the development and implementation of the Playbook.

This workshop will offer an in-depth exploration into the practical applications of the i5 Playbook through a series of interactive and collaborative activities. Along with sharing the extensive pedagogical research behind the i5 programme and inspiring examples of how i5 is implemented globally, the workshop will tap into the diverse experiences of participants. Through real-world examples and hands-on exercises, participants will gain a comprehensive understanding of how i5's principles can reshape teaching approaches and create meaningful learning experiences.

Upon successful completion of the workshop, European participants will be awarded a Certificate of i5 Engagement. This unlocks access to forthcoming mentoring and development opportunities within the i5 Literacy Certification Scheme – an advanced series culminating in a certification, validating your expertise in employing i5 pedagogies.

Note: This workshop is designed for educators who are familiar with the basics of i5 concepts. If you're new to i5, please engage with the following introductory resources before participating.
